

Contest for the creation of the Visual/Illustration of the University of Padua's PhD programme

Description: The PhD Office of the University of Padua announces a contest for the creation of a Visual/Illustration for its PhD programme, open to all PhD students of the University of Padua. The winning project will be used to represent the entire community of PhD students of the University of Padua.

Objective: The Visual/Illustration must be a simple and stylised interpretation of the meaning and value of the doctoral programme at the University of Padua. It must be original, creative and easily recognisable.

General project requirements: The project must always meet the requirements listed below, whether it is a Visual/Illustration or a combination of the two.

- It must include the wording "PhD - University of Padua".
- It must represent the entire community of doctoral students of the University of Padua in an inclusive manner that respects the diversity and multiculturalism of the academic community.
- It must avoid any type of content that could be considered offensive, discriminatory or harmful to any group or person.
- It must reflect the values and importance of the doctoral programme at the University of Padua.
- It must be suitable for its use on various products (e.g. t-shirts, mugs, etc.)
- It must be an original work, not the result of plagiarism.
- It must not be a work realised through generative artificial intelligence systems.
- It can be in colour or black and white.
- It must be easily adaptable to different sizes without losing readability.

Use of the material produced:

The authors of the Visuals or Illustrations participating in the contest assign, by expressly signing the attached declaration which is an essential element for the participation in the contest, all intellectual property, use and economic exploitation rights for all purposes and exclusively, without time limits, free of charge to the University of Padua, which, therefore, will become the owner and may exercise all rights in any way related to such ownership.

The winning project will be used by the PhD Office of the University of Padua to the purpose of communication. By submitting the project, the participant expressly authorises the above-mentioned uses.

Modalities of Participation:

- The contest is open to all PhD students enrolled in a PhD course at the University of Padua, who have not yet taken their final exam by the deadline date of this announcement.
- Each participant or group of participants can send only one Visual/Illustration and each participant must send the enclosed form duly completed and signed.
- The project must be sent in digital format (JPEG, PNG or PDF) with a minimum resolution of 300 dpi, in A4 format and at least 20 cm in size, accompanied by a brief description of its meaning and inspiration (max. 200 words), in PDF format, and sent only via institutional mail address (@unipd.it).
- Each participant or member of a group of participants must send, at the time of application, the attached release form duly completed and signed.

Deadline: All contributions must be sent by October 31st 2024 at 1 p.m. (CEST) to phd@unipd.it

Award: The winning project will be chosen by a jury consisting of lecturers and technical and administrative staff from the University of Padua. The winner will receive a gift voucher of 100 € to be used at the UNIPD Store.
