Programme: Master's programme in Human rights and multi-level governance

Double Degree Programme in Human rights and multi-level governance with Université Catholique de Lyon (France)

Something about me

I'm a French Master's Graduate currently working as a Social Worker at Tremplin 94 since October 2023 in Paris. Tremplin 94 is an organisation that helps women and children victims of domestic violence.

About my UNIPD Experience

What do you like the most about the degree programme? Would you recommend it?

The professors are really present for the students, constantly engaging us through diverse and interesting subjects. Being in an international environment is such an enriching experience and the double degree program really supports and actualises this.

Also, the interdisciplinary and complementary nature of the two academic systems, two degrees but one overall experience is super unique and really suited my interests.

What are the main features of your double degree program?

The program opened my eyes to topics and courses I never would have taken previously, allowing me to expand my knowledge and understanding of Human Rights and Multi Governance.

What is the added value in participating in these kind of programs (academic and private)?

The exposure to different working opportunities was unparalleled as I grew my network of professors, peers and industry professionals at both universities.

"It's a unique experience to challenge yourself and discover new horizons."

About my Padova Experience

Don't be scared to travel nearby because it is really easy to visit and travel around Italy by bus or train and not very expensive! By the way, ESN was really helpful to meet other students, and find great places to go and visit. Also, the libraries in Padua are really beautiful, I spent a lot of time in Biblioteca Beato Pellegrino for my thesis. It was really easy to access with the app to reserve a seat.
