A tour that focuses on the Palace's twentieth-century additions (Palazzo Bo e il '900 di Gio Ponti) is available on Saturdays, Sundays, and public holidays. The tour includes the courtyards, the Rectorate (il Rettorato), the Old Archive (Archivio Antico), the Basilica, the Galileo Galilei Great Hall (Aula Magna Galileo Galilei), the Hall of Forty (Sala dei Quaranta), the "Anatomical Kitchen", the Anatomical Theatre, the Hall of Medicine (Sala di Medicina), the Hall of Law (Sala di Giurisprudenza), and the statue of Elena Cornaro. Some of the halls depend on availability, as university activities and events are normally held there. Please note that, as Palazzo del Bo continues to play a crucial role in academic life, visitors are not guaranteed to access all the sites offered by the provided tours.

Entrance with audio QRcode: on Saturdays, Sundays, and public holidays it is possible to go on tour autonomously by using the audio QRcode placed along the route. It is necessary to be equipped with an electronic device (smartphone, tablet, etc.) with a video camera. Earphones or headphones are strongly recommended.
