

Professional courses 2019/2020 – University of Padova

Tutorship for Learning Processes

Professional outlets: The Tutorship for Learning Processes is a functional competence, focused on the understanding and didactical management - in different scholastics/extrascholastics learning contexts - of the main learning/study difficulties issues. It involves competences in cognitive psychology of learning processes, related project planning activities, and basic management of motivational and contextual issues involved in learning. These competences enrich the professional skills of teachers, pedagogists, professional trainers and psychologists, within their own respective roles and responsibilities.
