ANNEX 1 - RECOGNITION OF PREVIOUS CREDITS AND CAREER ABBREVIATION

1. Request for credit recognition

To recognize previously acquired credits and abbreviate the academic career, an online preventive evaluation request must be submitted (typically between June and the first half of July 2025). Methods and deadlines will be published by June 2025 on the page www.unipd.it/domanda-valutazione.

The appointed commission issues a resolution containing the list of recognized educational activities/credits and the proposed year of admission, with the following criteria:

- recognition less than or equal to 41 CFU → 1st year;
- recognition between 42 and 71 CFU → 2nd year;
- recognition greater than or equal to 72 CFU → 3rd year.

In order to recognize CFU and propose a year of admission, the following are considered:

- only fully recognized exams (partial validations are not considered)
- only validations proposed for exams already taken and registered at the time in which the credit recognition request is submitted.

For more information on the methods of recognizing educational activities, as well as for any clarifications on the received resolution, you can contact the Back office of your degree programme: www.unipd.it/backoffice-carriere-studenti - psicologia.studenti@unipd.it.

Candidates who wish to apply for credit recognition can participate in the first and second selection processes to ensure entry in the first year, even if these take place before making an application for credit recognition; in the event of admission, the recognition provided on the basis of a resolution will be validated and included in the career after enrolment.

2. Candidates eligible for admission to the 2nd and 3rd year

If the number of eligible candidates for admission to the 2nd and 3rd years of a course exceeds the number of available places, only admitted candidates may enroll in the 2nd and 3rd years.

For admission to each year of each course in this call, a merit ranking is drawn up, in order of score, based on the CFU and grades of fully recognized exams (for ranking purposes, partial validations are not considered). Only exams already taken and registered at the time of submitting the credit recognition request can be considered for calculating the year of admission; for ranking purposes, a maximum of 12 CFU for exams related to free credits are considered.

The score is calculated as follows:

- The grade of each recognized exam is multiplied by its respective CFU (in the calculation, the grade 30/30 with honors is counted as 33);
- The products obtained are then summed;
- The result of this sum is then multiplied by the weighted average of the grades of the recognized exams.

As an example, here's a scenario with three exams: exam A (6 cfu) grade 24; exam B (9 cfu) grade 30; exam C (6 cfu) grade 27:

ranking score = [(24 x 6) + (30 x 9) + (27 x 6)] x weighted average (which is equivalent to: [(24 x 6) + (30 x 9) + (27 x 6)]/21)

ranking score = 576 x 27.43 = 15799

In case of a tie, reference will be made to the date of birth with preference given to the younger candidate.

The rankings for access to years subsequent to the first will be published on the page <https://www.unipd.it/ammissioni-bps-temps> by September 2025.

After receiving the credit recognition decision and being admitted to any rankings for access to subsequent years, the deadlines for completing the course access procedures are as follows:

- Enrollment: from the date of publication of the ranking until September 30, 2025 (entire day);
- Incoming transfer: from the date of publication of the ranking until September 30, 2025 (entire day);
- Course change: from September 2 (or from the date of publication of the ranking, if later) until September 30, 2025 (entire day).

Admission proceeds in order of ranking. If places become available due to the withdrawal of admitted candidates, further selection will be carried out by direct call from the Settore Immatricolazioni e Prove di Accesso, in any case no later than October 31, 2025.

Instructions for completing enrollment, transfer, or course change after receiving the credit recognition decision are available on page www.unipd.it/istruzioniaccesso-triennali-magistrali-ciclounico

ANNEX 2: TOPICS (SYLLABUS) OF THE PSYCHOLOGY ENTRY TEST IN ENGLISH

Reading comprehension

The reading comprehension questions are designed to test language proficiency in terms of comprehension of the different types of use.

There are of three types of texts: non-fiction, journalistic and scientific texts. The questions will test essential grammatical skills (morphological and syntactic), possession of a sufficiently rich vocabulary, inferential skills, the ability to understand hierarchical relationships and to establish formal and semantic relations between the constituent parts of a text, as well as the ability to infer implied meaning and assumptions.

Non-fiction, journalistic and scientific texts may deal with phenomena, events and problems arising in the study of psychological, human and social sciences (e.g. history and philosophical thought) and current affairs.

Basic mathematics

The questions in this section will cover the following topics from the Mathematics syllabus typically taught in upper secondary schools.

Set theory: sets and basic set operations (union, intersection, difference, complement and Cartesian product).

Numerical sets: numerical sets and their properties, elementary operations, sorting and comparison. Absolute value. Prime numbers, decomposition into prime factors. Greatest common divisor and lowest common multiple. Powers and roots.

Algebraic expressions: basic algebra. Algebraic expressions. Operations with monomials and polynomials, remarkable products, decomposition of a polynomial into factors.

Equations and inequalities: equations and inequalities of the first degree. Basic information on equations and inequalities of the second degree and systems of linear equations.

Functions: definition of function. Qualitative graphs of elementary functions. Fundamental properties of functions: monotonicity, limitation, periodicity. Invertible functions and inverse function. Basic information on the following topics: domain, image and counter-image of an element; composition of functions; exponentials and logarithms.

Plane geometry: basic plane figures and their elementary properties. Pythagoras' theorem. Properties of similar triangles. Congruence criteria for triangles. Perimeter and area of basic plane figures (triangles, quadrilaterals, regular polygons and circles). Incidence, parallelism and perpendicularity between lines in the plane.

Analytical geometry: Cartesian coordinates in the plane. Distance between two points and midpoint of a segment. Straight line equations. Angular coefficient. Equation of a straight line with one of its points known and its angular coefficient. Equation of a straight line with two of its points known. Conditions of parallelism and perpendicularity. Incident, parallel and coincident straight lines.

Biology

The questions in this section will cover the following topics from the Biology syllabus typically taught in upper secondary schools.

Chemical composition of living organisms: bioelements. The properties of water. Molecules of biological interest: carbohydrates, lipids, amino acids and nucleotides. Structure and functions of macromolecules of biological interest: polysaccharides, nucleic acids and proteins.

Biology of the cell: cell organisation. Morpho-functional characteristics of eukaryotic cells. Main cellular constituents: cell membranes, cytoplasm, mitochondria, ribosomes, endoplasmic reticulum, Golgi apparatus, lysosomes, nucleus.

Cell cycle, reproduction, heredity: cell reproduction: mitosis and meiosis. Chromosome kit. Reproduction and heredity. Mendelian genetics. Classical genetics: chromosomal theory of heredity; sex chromosomes. Molecular genetics: DNA and genes; genetic code and its translation. The eukaryotic chromosome. Human genetics: transmission of mono- and multifactorial characters; hereditary diseases. Mutations.

Basics of human anatomy and physiology: the human organism: support and movement functions, nutrition, respiration, circulation, excretion; immune, endocrine and reproductive functions. The central nervous system: structural and functional bases.

Verbal reasoning

Verbal reasoning questions aim to highlight the ability to solve problems that require combining data and knowledge in non-immediate ways and making logical deductions with some degree of complexity. For example, one can ask whether a certain utterance, or its negation, is a logical consequence of other utterances in which the terms “if”, “then”, “all”, “none”, “some”, “at least one” are used.

Solving some problems may also require discovering a rule or a principle and applying it.

The questions examine: the ability to draw reliable conclusions from given premises and to reject incorrect solutions; the ability to discover a rule or a principle and apply it to solve a problem.

Questions may also concern the issue of a necessary or sufficient condition. In a certain situation and given certain premises, for example, one can be asked to establish whether a statement is true or false.

Numerical reasoning

Numerical reasoning questions are designed to test the ability to understand and process numerical, symbolic and formal information and to ascertain mathematical knowledge achieved in upper secondary school studies.

The questions aim to test the ability to perform calculations to obtain a correct answer, infer a solution in numerical expressions, identify a rule that explains a certain progression of numbers, understand relationships between numbers, reason with numbers, combine numerical relationships.

Questions may also concern the interpretation of various types of graphical representations and tables.

In general, these questions assess the candidate's ability to deal with numerical concepts and to reason with numbers.
