ARTICLE 5 – GROUNDS FOR INELIGIBILITY

Applications that are not signed by the student, incomplete in terms of completion and documentation, received after the deadline and/or submitted by means other than those specifically indicated in art. 4 above shall be considered inadmissible and therefore excluded from this call for applications.

ARTICLE 6 – SELECTION BOARD AND AWARD OF CONTRIBUTIONS

1. The Board is appointed by the President of the Intesa Sanpaolo Foundation philanthropic organisation and is composed of three representatives of the University of Padua indicated by the Rector and one representative designated by the Intesa Sanpaolo Foundation philanthropic organisation.

2. For its preliminary work, the Board avails itself of the administrative support provided by staff appropriately identified by the University who, on behalf of the Foundation, ascertains the admissibility of the applications submitted and prepares a list of those admitted - including all the information necessary for the assessment of the applications - and a list of those excluded.

3. The Board - limited to the admitted applications - weighs the economic hardship and other conditions of disadvantage that are duly documented and allocates, until the funds made available are exhausted, study grants in favour of students deemed to be in the most serious situations.

4. The Board draws up a report containing a list of all students whose applications have been excluded, a list of students whose applications have been admitted and a list of the winners. The minutes, signed by all members of the Board, are sent to the Foundation.

5. The University, on behalf of the Foundation, shall notify each student concerned of the outcome of the Board’s assessments - with exclusive regard to the student’s position - to the institutional email address indicated in the respective application. No rankings will be published.

6. The assessments made by the Board under this Article are final; there is no appeal against its decisions.

7. The work of the Board, unless extended, which will be communicated by the University to all participants, will be concluded indicatively within three months following the closing date of this call.

ARTICLE 7 – RECOGNITION OF THE STUDY GRANT

The University, in cooperation with the Foundation and possibly by the end of the 2023/2024 academic year, is organising an event/ceremony on the theme of the Right to Education on its premises.

The terms and timing of the relevant payment, which will be made by the Fondazione Intesa Sanpaolo philanthropic organisation, will be indicated in the grant award notice.
ARTICLE 8 – PROHIBITION OF CUMULATION

The contribution may not be accumulated with other scholarships, grants and funding provided in application of current legislation on the right to study, nor with grants provided by other bodies. Exemption from payment of university fees does not constitute grounds for incompatibility with the grant.

Should the candidate be awarded another scholarship/grant/funding for A.Y. 2023/2024 after the awarding of the grant pursuant to the present Call, he/she shall immediately inform the Foundation stating whether he/she intends to maintain the Foundation’s grant or opt for the other scholarship/grant/funding.

In the event of a waiver of the Foundation’s study grant, the Foundation will reallocate the grant to the minimum amount set out in the Call for Proposals (€ 1,500). Waivers communicated after the grant has been awarded will result in the recovery of the grant already awarded without the possibility of reallocation.

ARTICLE 9 – REVOCATIONS OF CONTRIBUTIONS

The contribution may also be withdrawn after allocation:

⇒ if substantial discrepancies are found between what the student has declared and the student’s actual economic, financial or family situation;

⇒ in the event that, also as a result of checks carried out by the University, the student is the beneficiary of other grants/contributions/financing for the same academic year.

ARTICLE 10 - CONTACTS

For information and/or clarification, students may contact the Student Services Office at the University of Padua, Via Portello 19 - 35129 Padua, e-mail premi.studenti@unipd.it.
